CAST INFORMATION

Three members of the cast first appeared in this play about 10 years ago when it was presented by the Players. Two of them, Barbara Jeffers and Mark McGuire played the same parts while Terry McDermott played Humphrey Podmore. The other actors are all new to Running Riot.

Barbara Jeffers an actress of many years experience, was last seen as the judge in Wind in the Willows following on from her success as Miss Shepherd in The Lady in the Van.

Mark McGuire, who made his stage debut at the Lyric Theatre playing the title role in Oliver, last appeared with Bart Players in Kevin's Bed and has since, helped us out by singing in all our pantomimes

Terry McDermott, who has been with Bart Players, man and boy, for more years than he cares to remember, performed most recently in The Lady in the Van.

Emma Townsend, a relative newcomer to the group acted the part of Shirley Hornet in both the last two summer sailor shows.

Brendan Fegan, who first joined up to do pantomimes, also appeared in the sailor shows as Carnoustie as did Michael Fee who played Albert Tufnell.

Norman Turkington, an actor of huge experience has been a wonderful asset to the group appearing in every show but one since joining us to work backstage on Treasure Island. Norman last appeared as Mr. Hornet in the two sailor plays.

Louise McWilliams enjoyed a very successful guest appearance last festival season with Rosemary Players in Tea in a China Cup following her part with Barts in Wind in the Willows.

June Silcock, another veteran member of the group, and this year's chairman, was the washerwoman in Wind in the Willows.
